

Written exam

Semester: EN3, AIE3 Esbjerg

Exam Course: AC Circuit Theory

Date: 9th of January 2026

Time: 09:00 – 13:00 +15 min. to upload assignment

Exam guidelines for the use of aids in this specific exam:

- All aid are allowed including textbooks, slides, personal notes, exercise solutions, advanced calculators and computers. Use of the internet is allowed in connection with using your aids; OneDrive (only offline mode), Moodle and software programs. In addition, tools like Google Translate
- One PC with Aracanic Observer installed and active during the exam. All answers are scanned for plagiarism.
- Tablets or mobile phones may be brought to the exam only for use in connection with uploading handwritten pages. Should you choose to make handwritten or partly handwritten answers, it must be easy to read. If this is not the case, you may be evaluated as 'not passed'.
- Questions must always be addressed to the invigilators.

Not allowed aids:

- Use of AI and ChatGPT is strictly forbidden
- All kinds of communication with others or file sharing are NOT allowed during written Exams.
- Use of the internet is NOT allowed.
- Headphones are not allowed, whether wired or wireless. Air buds/Earbuds are also not allowed as hearing protection, even if no music is being played. Only non-electronic earplugs may be used (e.g., foam earplugs).

Submission:

- Remember to write your study number on all answer sheets. Do not write your name as your evaluation is anonymous. Upload your answer sheets as a PDF file, preferably as 1 common file.
- Intermediate steps and calculations should be included in your answer sheets. Printing the result is insufficient.

- Your answers must be uploaded to Digital exam during the last quarter from 13:00-13:15. After 13:15 you are no longer allowed to answer any of the assignments.
- You may choose to make handwritten answers or to answer on your computer or a combination. You can scan your exam paper via your iPhone or iPad. iPhone/iPad must be hidden during the exam.